To play online blackjack you need to know the rules. Online blackjack has little difference from the brick and mortar version. The rules to blackjack remain the same basic ones: you need to reach a total of 21 points (no more) or as close to 21 as possible before the dealer does. How do you know how many points for each card? Simple: number cards are worth their real number value, face cards (J, Q, K) are worth 10 points, aces are worth 1 or 11, whichever suits your game in order to reach your goal - beat the dealer without busting over 21.

These are the elementary rules you need to know to play online blackjack. Of course there are tricks and strategies to win in blackjack games, though most of them are arguable in terms of achieving the desired results.

One successful strategy to play online blackjack is card counting which, as the name implies, consists of counting how many cards are dealt and their respective values so as to better predict the odds of getting a certain card next. To learn how to play online blackjack using card counting strategy, read our article.

There are two modes you can choose to play online blackjack: the free blackjack games and the real money blackjack games. You can play online blackjack games for free if you want to know how the casino works or to practice on your skill. You don't lose money, but you also don't win any. If you already know how to play online blackjack properly, you can move on to real money casino games, where not only you get instant credits and free bonuses, but also - and more important - you play to rake in the big money prize.

Blackjack is a popular game of skills and strategy. Having a sound blackjack strategy is top priority to win over the powerful blackjack dealer.

Blackjack rules change from one casino to another. Dealer hitting on soft 17 increases the house edge. Doubling, splitting and early surrender are good for the player.

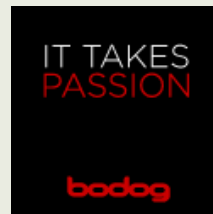

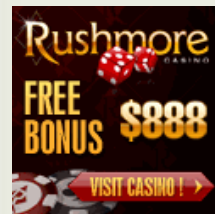

Single deck and double decks can be profitable for card counters. Avoid 6-5 blackjack. Play double-deck with high penetration, standard rules and low minimum bet.
